

to-be-determined: L^AT_EX Package for highlighting places that require more work

Yegor Bugayenko

0.1.1 2021/07/21

This package helps you highlight places in your articles and make sure it looks nice. Install it from CTAN and then use like this:

```
\documentclass{article}
\usepackage{to-be-determined}
\begin{document}
The budget is \tbd{99.00 USD}.
\end{document}
```

The budget is 99.00 USD.

With this package it's also possible to highlight larger pieces of text that take a few lines on the page.

If you want to hide the content of what's inside `\tbd`, use `hide` option of the package. They will all be replaced with TBD placeholders.

If you want them to disappear entirely, use the `off` package option.

More details about this package you find in the `yegor256/to-be-determined` GitHub repository.
